TO THE EDITOR OF THE C SIRt No appointment t position of late years more discussion than tha night, when the Chairma Council reappointed Bey a member of the Board of This appointment is the the local campaign that polls on Tuesday, April the Council on the conf --appointment le only a of the fatensity of popul lesue now before the [sone that ale at the bot tion that has been st action of the Chairman may be few or many, unfounded, reasonable but in this instance it v only in its relation to юш property for taxing pt bert has been in public boyhood. He holds t' youngest man elected | & public office in this t perience and natural best informed mation lot W this town to-day. T ane was appointed a me ust Tax Assessors, and, (It and proper, he beck er é front of that board Ity. stranger bere would prised to learn the one of three membe ball body appears to bill Mr. Cocketair for incres but much is heard in tion and abuse of be . grieved taxpayer but Mr. C master band and mi vision and codjust assessments in this bad to stand the b that generally and follows an Moreas taxes that property to pay. The dras angry has been in a by the intelligent were in a position ! the Tax Board on and justice. The D of commissioners of and surprised with that pervaded the the assessors. 1 Taxation, a body throughout the St judgment from & view, expressed ad telligence, complet the Bloomfield . owners who ar : fe ditions bere and w erty valuations mi shanged condition de Lon with the n 'd oblem had been But whether c ore praised that atter. The que onableness of th he advent of Mr be card the townst $61 tax rate of 3,12 in tente this was fo be opular ladiguat ildfure, and the pe rdiger by voting lations for put biled the governe PThe eltuation leyige. Public . set and of public resse la tax . twilldings and o at Dearly suf ficiency. It was appar oper who bud I that a four ged the town. age that Mr. G snessors. thorough sessment Wo. s made. Th it. The tested and will not be ert in assess e few cases y be discovere terially affect present value as an independ 1 for severa iose of lower nept and will DE

COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED

TO ADJUST THE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN EAST ORANGE AND THE WATER CO.

Over the Sale of the Latter's Plant to the City-Two Bloomfielders ou the Commission A Matter of Local Importance.

Chief Justice Gummere has appointed Amsi Dodd and Thomas Oakes of this town and Eugene Vanderpool of Newark members of a commission to adjudicate the differences between the city of East Orange and the Orange Water Company over the price to be paid by the city to the water company for the purchase of the latter's plant and equipment and the surrender of its franchise.

The commissioners are exceptionally well qualified for the duty imposed upon them by the Court. Collectively they represent a body of men whose long and wide experience in business life particularly fits them for dealing with the questions of equity, finance and mechanics involved in the problem they have been appointed to solve.

Mr. Dodd, who until recently was President of the Mutual Resent Life Insurance Company, and is now its general counsel, was present a be-Chan-cellor of New Jersey and a Judge of the Court of Appeal and is a lawyer of distinction.

Mr. Vander pol President of the Howard Savings Bank, a former Prestdent of the Newsk Gas Company, is Treasder of seex County Park Commission. ad is a expert engineer.

Mr. Oakes is President of the Bloomfield National Bank, and is prominently identified with the commercial life of this town, and as a manufacturer is familiar with the value of machinery and power-plant equipment.

The water company has asked the sum of $800,000 for what the city has expressed a desire to purchase from it. An expert employed by the city has estimated the value of what the city wants, exclusive of the franchise, at $353,500.02.

The Water Company is determined to make strenuous resistance against being compelled to surrender its property for a leeser amount than they claim for its value, and the town is equally determined that what it characterizes as an exorbitant price will not be seriously considered by the sommissioners. Both sides have enlisted the services of some of the ablest legal talent in the city. City Counsel Philemon Woodruff of South Orange having retained Ricuard dedabury, of Lindabury, Depue & Faulks, to assist him in the case, while the water company has engaged Munn & Church to look after its interests in the contest.

That part of the water company's equipment that is contemplated in the East Orange purchase consists of fiftynine miles of water mains, 329 fire bydrants, 1,600 "specials," as the gates and valves are called, and about 5,000 house connections.

The city of East Orange is desirous of purchasing the company's property to operate it for the town's benefit, and the company is willing to surrender it if the amount at which it is appraised by them is given in exchange. This sum-$800,-000-is considered exerbitant by the town officials, and when it was seen that negotiations for the purchase could not result satisfactorily to either side, condemnation proceedings were instituted under the act of 1876 governing matters of this character.

It is thought that the work of the commissioners will not prove laborious. as it will be necessary only to consuit the plans of the distributing system and hear a little testimony. The importance of the matter at issue was recognized by Judge Gummere in making his appointments, and he so announced at the time.

The settlement of the controversy between East Orange and the water company will have an important bearing on the new water contract to be made here.

TOWN COUNCIL.

FINAL SESSION OF THE PRESENT COUNCIL

Marked by a Spirited Debate over a Question of Drainage - Woney Voted to the Health Board Water Mains for People's Park Bids Called for Morton Street Sever.

The Town Council of 1901-1902 held its final session on Monday evening. Councilman at-Large-elect George Peter. son was among the spectators present at the meeting, and Chairman Ward courteously invited him to a seat at the head of the Council table.

Councilman Farrand asked if the clerk had received any word from the real estate agent of the Lackawanna Railroad Company in regard to the location of the police station on the company's property. The clerk reported that no reply had been received from the company.

Theodore Harvey's claim for damage to his horse by reason of injuries sustained by the animal falling to an open sewer trench was reported ettled.

Councilman Farrand in the report on street matters recommended that the Road Committee be authorized to complete a drain across Montgomery Street and leading to lecond River.
This proposition lectore of the most animated discussions in the history of the retiring Council, from the various statements made during the discussion it appears that so is years ago, sixty years, it was said, a draw was constructed for the purpose of carrying off the surface waser from a large area of property north and east of Montgom-ery and John Streets. The drain cross duncer Montgomery Street, and was of fuer down to Second River, or wat as ben known as Willet's Pond. What thesewer was constructed in Montgomery Street the drain was broken and never repaired.

The consequence was a large accumulation of water on the properties formerly benefited by the drain followed every rain-storm of any consequence. The surface water of Montgomery Street, Davey Street, Morton Street, and John Street converged at or near the old drain course. Much complaint was made by aggrieved property owners about the bad condition of affairs there. and Chairman Farrand of the Road Committee undertook to apply a remedy by reopening the drain, and leading it to Second River through a twenty-inch vitrified pipe.

Contractor Callaban was directed by the Road Committee to do the work. Chairman Ward declared the motion The estimated, cost including the pipe, was between three and four bundred dollars.

Councilman Conian, when he heard of the work being done by the Road Committee, visited the place on Friday of last week, and his opinion was that the drain was calculated to be more to the laterest of private property-owners than of normanty benefit to the street. and be called or. Chairman Ward, and the two went together to the place, and both were of the opinion that the construction of the drain involved work beyond the legal power of the Council to carry out, and it was ordered stopped.

In his statement to the Council on Monday night, Mr. Farrand defended his action on the ground that the overcomplaint to the Council and had been referred to the Road Committee, so be understood, to remedy it, and as the drain that was broken was an old established one, and was broken by the town in putting down a sewer, he assumed that it was the moral duty of the town officials to remedy the trouble. that had been caused by a town act. and to relieve the suffering propertyowners, and by repairing the drain threatened lawsuits against the town were avoided.

Chairman Ward asked on what grounds the complainants expected to get damages from the town.

Mr. Fairand replied on the ground that the town was responsible in the first instance for the breaking and stoppage of the drain. The Town Attorney, Mr. Farrand said, had approved of the action of the Road Committee.

Mr. Halfpenny stated his understanding of the case, and said that the redress of injured property-owners was against the parties responsible for the stoppage of the drains.

Chairman Ward seked the Attorney as to the extent of the town's obligations in the matter.

Mr. Halfpenny replied that the town's obligations only applied to the street.

Councilman Contan, who was firmly of the opinion that the construction of the drain was beyond the legal power of the Council, asked if there had been any appropriation made for meeting the cost.

Councilman Unanget asked as to the probable cost of the drain, and if the matter had ever been brought before the Town Council for action.

Chairman Ward, in reply to the first query from Mr. Unanget, estimated the cost at about three hundred dollars, and Councilman Thompson in reply to the second question, said that he was of the opinion that the matter had been before the Council and was referred at the time to the Road Committee with power.

Mr. Farrand stated that he was also of that opinion, but on looking over the Council minutes he could find no record of such action.

Councilman Harrison supported the action of the Road Committee. The drain, he said was originally constructed many years ago for the benefit of the property it drained. The town authorities broke the dralu and destroyed its usefulness, and the accumulation of stagnant water was a nulsance to the people in the neighborhood, and was also a menace to the public health, and In his estimation the party responsible for the misance should testors the drain to the full extent of its former useful-

Mr Farrand, to reply to an inquiry from Mr I manget as to whether or not the action of the Road Committee estab lishing a precedent, said that there was no ground for a precedent, as the mat ter simply resolved itself laters question of the town s repairing damage done by the town

Chalrinan Ward who adhered to a strict construction of the town obligs. then in the case contended that when the town restored the drain between the extremes of the street lines its obligation ended and the extension of the drain beyond that was a matter of the property-owners to settle among themselves

Mr. Contan contended that the Batzle case in Thomas Street was a parallel case with that of Montgomery Street and if the town had a right to construct a drain for the benefit of Montgomery Street property owners it had the same right to relieve Mr. Batzle and others. but, continued Mr. Coulan, the Road Committee in its report on the Batzle petition said that the only means of relief for Mr. Batzle was by the assess. ment of the cost of the construction of a drain on the property benefitted.

Mr. Farrand contemied that the Batzie case was not parallel wirn the Montgomery Street case as there was no established orain on the premises and Mr. Barz'e's grievance was not due to a negligent act on the part of the town. The debate closed at this point and a vote was taken on Mr. Farrand's motion.

Mesers, Thompson, Harrison, and Farrand voting aye, and Mesers. Wood Unanget, and Conian voting may. lost. Mr. Conlan then moved that the Road Committee restore the drain in the Street.

Councilman Harrison read a communleation from the Roard of H with a-king for $5 on to defeay bit a mourted by the Board. The money was voted

Councilman Thompson reported that the survey of the boundary line between this town and Bedeville had been made by the official engineer of the batter town, and he called on Town Surveyor Omsted for a statement. Mr. Omsted said that the "angles" ballout in the original survey had all been established and some changes would be percessive In the assessment map

Mr. Farrand asked which town was the gainer by the survey. Mr. Oimstell flow of property in the vicinity of the replied that Belleville was especially in drain had been a source of frequent the particular case that prompted the survey. This led Mr. Unanget to remark that the result of the survey was highly satisfactory to Mr. Edward Schwerit

Mr. Conlan inquired if it was the proper way to establish a boundary line by accepting the work of the paid employee of one of the interested parties to the dispute.

Mr. Olimsted said that there was nothing wrong about it except the result of the findings was disputed.

Mr. Thompson said that there was no objection to Mr. Coulan's having a third engineer go over the ground if he was dissatished with the survey.

Mr. Conlan said he had no fault to find with the survey, but his question related to the legal establishment of the boundary line.

On motion of Mr. Thompson of the Sewer Committee, the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for the construction of the Morton Street

A. H. Olmsted was named by the Council as engineer to superintend the opening of Jerome Place.

Councilman Harrison reported that the owners of Park Place had compiled with the conditions imposed by the Town Council as a preliminary to ordering water mains hald in the park streets, and the Water Committee was authorized to order the water main

The Road Committee on motion of Mr. Farrand, was empowered to grade Charles Street in accordance with the petition for opening and widening that or has no su n that special of the curpear to be, is n the Board otherwise SPATER.

